Ladies and Gentlemen,

We are sending you the current safety data sheets for the articles listed below which are subject to the labelling provisions.

According to Directive 91/155/EEC of the European Community and the German Hazardous Substances Ordinance, each recipient must be handed the safety data sheets for (handling) hazardous products

- with the first delivery of the articles, and
- after each serious alteration within the last 12 months.

If you resell the products (e.g. as wholesaler) you are also obliged to inform your customers in the same manner.

Owing to a system migration within our premises it is possible that you may, for a short time, again receive safety data sheets that are already in your possession, even though no serious changes have been made to the product. In such cases we ask for your understanding.

Please issue these sheets to all persons in your company who are responsible for industrial safety, health protection and for handling these products.

Herewith all previous versions of the safety data sheets are no longer valid.

Best regards

Henkel AG & Co. KGaA
